CONFERENCE INFO

DESCRIPTION AND GOALS

The goals of this conference are to present the latest research, assessment, and intervention techniques concerning various aspects of childhood, adolescent and adult trauma and maltreatment, and the long-term effects if they go untreated. Plenary and Breakout Sessions discuss the types of child, adolescent and adult trauma, domestic violence, the dynamics of maltreatment and trauma at home or in the community, and the effects on children, adolescents and adults psychologically, behaviorally, and neurodevelopmentally. Nationally and Internationally recognized presenters come together to discuss the latest research, assessment methods, interventions, and prevention strategies for children, adolescents and adults who have been traumatized, abused, and/or victimized. Applying current research information and providing practical techniques are emphasized throughout this conference. A maximum of 6 Continuing Education credits are available for psychologists, counselors, marriage & family therapists, social workers, and nurses for attending the Pre-Conference (March 29). An additional 12 Continuing Education credits are available for these professions and for attorneys attending the Conference (March 30-31).

OBJECTIVES Participants will:

- ✓ Learn the current state-of-the-science research and practice concerning child, adolescent and adult trauma and maltreatment;
- ✓ Understand the dynamics and overlap of different types of trauma and maltreatment, and the effects on children, adolescents and adults;
- ✓ Understand the importance of early trauma to the long-term functioning of children, adolescents and adults;
- ✓ Enhance skills in assessing those who have been traumatized;
- ✓ Improve skills and learn new techniques for helping children, adolescents, adults and families recover from various types of trauma and maltreatment.

FACULTY

Christine Courtois, Ph.D. is a Psychologist in independent practice in Washington, DC and is Co-Founder and Clinical and Training Consultant of The CENTER: Posttraumatic Disorders Program at the Psychiatric Institute of Washington. She received her PhD from the University of Maryland in College Park, in 1979. Dr. Courtois has authored three books, Recollections of Sexual Abuse: Treatment Principles and Guidelines (1999), Adult Survivors of Child Sexual Abuse: A Workshop Model (1993), and Healing the Incest Wound: Adult Survivors in Therapy (1988), in addition to numerous articles and chapters on related topics. She routinely conducts professional training locally, nationally, and internationally on topics related to traumatic stress and is a former member of the Board of Directors of the International Society for Traumatic Stress Studies.

Lenore B. Behar, Ph.D. is the director of Child & Family Program Strategies in Durham, North Carolina. She has worked for the past 36 years to improve services for children and their families. In addition to managing the child mental health system in North Carolina for 30 years, Lenore Behar has provided consultation and technical assistance throughout the country, in 34 states and localities and in several foreign countries-all focusing on improving services for children and their families. She served on the three-person technical assistance panel responsible for assisting the State of Hawaii to come into compliance with their settlement agreement in the Felix lawsuit.

Lucinda A. Rasmussen, Ph.D., LCSW, a tenured associate professor of social work, has extensive clinical, teaching, and consulting experience in the areas of family violence and child maltreatment. Dr. Rasmussen's special area of clinical and research expertise focuses on the assessment and treatment of youth 5-19 who have sexual behavior problems or are sexually abusive. She conceptualized a practice model for treating the effects of traumatic experiences, the Trauma Outcome Process (TOPA model), and is in the process of designing research to validate this model. Dr. Rasmussen has presented on the TOPA model at numerous national and international child abuse conferences. Dr. Rasmussen's current research agenda includes an international collaborative study focused on children and adolescents who sexually abuse and a study of Motivational Interviewing with women residing in a domestic violence shelter.

Robert Geffner, Ph.D., ABPP, ABPN is the Founder and President of the Family Violence and Sexual Assault Institute in San Diego, CA; President of Alliant International University's Institute on Violence, Abuse and Trauma; Acting Director of Alliant's Center of Forensic Studies; Clinical Research Professor of Psychology at the California School of Professional Psychology, Alliant International University; Licensed Psychologist and Licensed Marriage & Family Therapist in California and Texas; Editor-in-Chief of Haworth's Maltreatment and Trauma Press, which also includes being the Editor of three internationally disseminated journals (Journal of Child Sexual Abuse and Journal of Aggression, Maltreatment, & Trauma, and co-editor of Journal of Emotional Abuse); and former clinical director of a large private practice mental health clinic in East Texas for over 15 years. He has a Diplomate in Clinical Neuropsychology and one in Family Psychology. Publications include recent treatment manuals and co-edited books concerning family violence and child maltreatment (e.g., The Cost of Child Maltreatment: Who Pays? We All Do, 2001; Children Exposed to Domestic Violence, 2000; Bullying Behavior, 2002; Domestic Violence Offenders, 2002; Identifying and Treating Sex Offenders, 2004). He was also an adjunct faculty member for the National Judicial College for over 10 years.

Rebecca Beardsley, Ph.D. is a psychologist in private practice specializing in program consulting/evaluation, professional training, and research. She currently provides consulting services in mental health/substance abuse evaluation research and professional training/consulting in evidenced based practices for integrated dual disorders treatment. Clinically, she specializes in psychological trauma and addiction and consults primarily with women's behavioral health services assisting to enhance and integrate treatment services to address trauma related concerns. Current and past research interests include post-traumatic stress disorder/dissociative disorders, evidenced based practices for co-occurring disorders, and feminist therapy.

George Rhoades, Jr., Ph.D. is a licensed clinical psychologist and the Director of Ola Hou Clinic in Pearl City, Hawaii.
